Yom HaShoah

CBT in conjunction with the Carlisle Area Religious Council has scheduled our Yom HaShoah remembrance service for Monday, April 25, 2022, at 7 P.M. in the Martin Luther Room of First Lutheran Church in Carlisle. Our guest speaker will be Lillian Rappaport, former (recently retired) Holocaust Educator for the Jewish Federation of Greater Harrisburg. Her topic will be “Holocaust Education in the 21st Century”. Her academic and work experience in this field make her especially qualified to address this topic in these times. As well as meeting in person with some precautions, we are also hoping to be able to Zoom the service for those unable to attend. More details will follow in April.

Jewish Ethics Lecture Series: Part 4

Join us for a free 4 part Jewish Ethics Lecture Series

Presented by the Central Pennsylvania Small Congregations Initiative in partnership with The Jewish Community Foundation of Central Pennsylvania and the Jewish Community Legacy Project.

The next lecture in this excellent series is on April 26 at 7pm via Zoom
PART 4: Yom HaShoah—Jewish Biomedical Ethics: Perspectives and Questions

Presenter: Jonathan K. Crane, Raymond F. Schinazi Scholar in Bioethics and Jewish Thought at Emory University
Moderator: Dr. Joe Levenstein, Adams County Jewish Community, Gettysburg
Panelists: Dr. Steven Burg, Shippensburg University, Professor, History of Disease and Public Health; Dr. Steven Wassner, Emeritus Professor of Pediatrics, Pennsylvania State University College of Medicine

Extraordinary advances in health care and biomedical science make it possible to manipulate human genes, enhance bodies, confront infectious diseases, even forestall death. However exciting such cutting-edge innovations may be, they address ancient questions and concerns. This talk explores Judaism’s old and continuing engagement with and perspectives on some of these bioethical issues.
